

SMT. K. G. MITTAL COLLEGE OF ARTS & COMMERCE

INSTITUTIONAL DISTINCTIVENESS

Taking into consideration the location of the institution and the conditions of neighboring community, programs are organized to enhance the employability of the students. Institution has tie-ups with various organisations and conducts value added courses and skill development courses. Students are provided placement on the successful completion of the course. Collaborations are done and MOUs are entered into with institutions which are functional, and under which various programmes are conducted for mutual benefit. Regarding academics, students are trained for examinations through regular and remedial lectures in hybrid mode. Class tests, assignments and project submissions are conducted on regular basis. Various webinars, conferences, workshops, guest lectures are conducted online for the benefit of stakeholders. Mentorship helped students to come out of their personal and academic problems, sharing it with their respective mentors.

Extra-curricular activities such as various competitions and other cultural events are conducted in online and offline mode to uplift and motivate the students. Extension programs are organized under the auspices of committees for the benefit of the nearby community. These activities provide training for the overall development of the students, and serves as the main motive for the students to seek admission in our institution. The dedicated and committed efforts of the entire staff of institution have made possible the successful conduct of these activities, thus making it a notable institution distinct from others.
